11. Engagement of Forwarding Agent

After Export Inspection certificate is obtained, the exporter has to obtain clearance from customs authorities. Generally exporters engage Clearing Forwarding Agent to fulfill various custom formalities. The latter do it for fees.

12. Dispatch of Goods to Port and Sending the Receipt to Agent

The exporter will send the goods over to port town by rail or by truck and endorse the Railway Receipt (R/R) or Lorry Receipt(L/R) to forwarding agent's favour with necessary instructions.

13. Fulfilment of Customs Formalities by Forwarding Agent

i. Taking the Delivery of Goods at Port Town

When the goods arrive at port town, the forwarding agent takes delivery from the rail or from the truck after the submission of railway receipt (R R) or lorry receipt (L R). Then the agent arranges for storage of the consignment in a warehouse.

ii. Obtaining Shipping Order

The clearing and forwarding agent approaches the shipping company or its agent to book space in the ship. On booking a space in ship, shipping company issues a document called Shipping Order. It contains instruction to the captain of the ship concerned to accept the consignment on board. Besides it provides information about the name of ship, nature of goods shipped, the date of shipping, weight of goods, port of destination, and freight paid.

iii. Charter Party

A charter party is a formal agreement between ship owner and the exporter under which exporter hires an entire ship or a major part of ship either for a particular voyage or for a specific time period when the shipping is heavy. The hiring of ship for specific voyage is called voyage charter while this hiring of entire ship for a specific time period is called time charter. The content of charter party includes the following

1. Name of the ship 2. Place of loading
3. Port of destination 4. Name of exporter
5. Amount of freight
