www.tntextbooks.in them preferential treatment in trade related matters.

6. WTO organizes periodical regional and international conference. Thus developing countries get opportunity to learn the technicalities, rules and regulations governing world trade, technical assistance available globally, trade potentials in member countries and so on.
7. WTO gives people across the world a wider choice of goods and broader range of qualities of goods to choose from by promoting free trade among the member countries.
8. WTO has lowered trade barriers and thereby allowed trade to flourish across the world. The increase in trade contributes to increase in national income and personal income of people
9. WTO provides a platform for member countries to establish trade links with one another. In the absence of WTO member countries may have to enter many multilateral agreement with so many countries across the world. It provides a greater access to all nations under one roof.
10. WTO is committed to protecting free trade. It has framed rules on subsidies and dumping.

WTO AGREEMENTS

1. Agreement Forming part of GATT

GATT is an important part of WTO agreements. It includes special agreement evolved to deal with non-tariff barriers

2. Agreement on Textile and Clothing

This agreement was evolved to eliminate quota restrictions imposed by developing countries on the export of textiles and clothing by them. It helps mainly developing countries to expand their textile and clothing export.

3. Agreement of Agriculture(AOA)

This agreement was made to ensure free and fair trade in agriculture. This agreement made the developed countries reduce customs duties on their imports and subsidies on the export of agricultural products. But developing countries were exempted from making reciprocal offer keeping in view of high dependence of these countries on agriculture.

4. General Agreement on Trade in Services

Under this agreement, all member countries were required to remove restrictions on trade in services in a phased manner.It provides that trade in service is governed by the principle of most favoured nation obligation. In other words countries have to award business contract on the basis of merit of service suppliers and on the basis of nationality status of service provider. It prevents the countries from discriminating between foreign service provider and local service provider. This agreement requires all the member countries to publish their laws relating to trade in service.

5. Agreement on Trade Related aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS)

This agreement sets out seven minimum standards of protection to be accepted by parties in respect of seven intellectual properties namely, copyright, trademark, geographical indication, industrial design, patent, layout design of integrated circuits and undisclosed information.