While posting the opening entry in the individual ledgers, the term balance brought down (balance b/d) is used. The steps involved in posting the opening entry are as follows:

Step 1: The items debited in the opening entry are entered on the debit side of respective accounts. The words 'To Balance b/d' are written in the particulars column with respective amounts in the amount column, date being the first day of the accounting period.

Step 2: The items credited in the opening entry are entered on the credit side of respective accounts. The words 'By Balance b/d' are written in the particulars column with respective amounts in the amount column, date being the first day of the accounting period.
