Column (2) Receipts: Receipts column shows name of persons or parties from whom cash has been received, income received, sale of asset like plant, cash sales and other receipts.

Column (3) Receipt Number (R.N.): This column contains the serial numbers of the cash receipts.

Columns (4) and (9) – Ledger Folio (L.F.): This column is provided both on the debit and credit side of the cash book. It is used for reference. The Ledger page number of every account in the cash book is recorded in this column. This column facilitates vouching and verification of transactions recorded.

Columns (5) and (10) – Amount: This is the last column of the cash book on both the debit and credit sides. In case of cash receipt, the amount of actual cash receipts and in case of payments, the amount of actual cash payment is recorded. The opening balance of cash is recorded on the debit side and the closing balance is the balancing figure on the credit side. Opening balance or capital contributed by cash in case of new business is the first item on the debit side and the closing balance is the last item on the credit side.

The word 'To' is conventionally used before different accounts at the debit side of cash book in particulars column. The word 'By' is used before the different accounts at the credit side of the cash book in particulars column.

Column (7) Payments: The accounts to which payments are made are recorded here such as names of persons to whom payment has been made, expenses paid, assets purchased, cash purchases, etc.

Column (8) Voucher Number (V.N.): This column contains the serial number of the voucher towards which payment is made.

Think: Credit transactions are not recorded in the cash book. Where will they be recorded?

7.6.1 Balancing of single column cash book

Since the cash book serves as cash account, it must be balanced regularly. The balancing procedure is the same like any other ledger account. It must be remembered that one cannot pay more cash than what one has received. Therefore, the total of receipts is always more than (or at least equal to, but never less than) the credit total (payments) and the cash book always shows a debit balance (or nil balance, but never credit balance).
