8.3.2 Errors in recording

(a) Errors committed in recording the transactions by the business in the cash book

Sometimes, errors may be committed in the cash book. For example, omission or wrong recording of transaction relating to cheques deposited or issued, wrong balancing, etc. In these cases, obviously, there will be differences between bank balance as per bank statement and bank balance as per cash book.

For example, the cheque received for ₹ 10, 000 is not entered in the cash book, but has been deposited with the bank. As a result, on collecting the money the balance as per bank statement will be more by ₹ 10, 000.

(b) Errors committed in recording the transactions by the bank

Sometimes errors may be committed in the banker's book. For example, omission or wrong recording of transaction relating to cheques deposited and wrong balancing. In these cases, obviously, there will be differences between bank balance as per bank statement and bank balance as per cash book.

For example, the cheque deposited for ₹ 50000, wrongly entered by the bank as ₹ 15, 000. This will lead to a difference of ₹ 35, 000 between the cash book balance and the balance as per bank statement.

In a nutshell, based on the differences, the cash book balance will be more than bank statement balance when:

1. Amounts deposited into bank but not yet credited
2. No entry made in cash book for
   a) Bank charges and bank interest
   b) Dishonoured cheques
   c) Amount paid directly by the bank to others
   d) Debit made in the pass book
3. Any error in addition to these in the cash book or bank statement which has the effect of high balance as per cash book the cash book balance will be less than the bank statement balance when:

1. Cheques issued but not yet presented
2. No entry made in cash book for
   a) Interest and dividends collected by the bank
   b) Amount paid by customer of the business directly in to the bank
   c) Bills collected by the bank on behalf of the customer
3. Any error in addition to these in the cash book or bank statement which has the effect of low balance as per cash book

8.4 Preparation of bank reconciliation statement

After having identified the causes of differences, the reconciliation may be done in the following way:

Bank reconciliation statement can be prepared either from the balance as per cash book or bank statement. If it is prepared from the balance of cash book, the effect of the transaction will be studied on the balance as per bank statement. If it is prepared from the balance as per bank statement, the effect of the transaction will be studied on the balance as per cash book.
