iii. Particular partnership

When a partnership is formed to carry on a particular venture or a business of temporary nature, it is called particular partnership. Such a firm lasts so long as the business agreed upon is not completed. In other words, it comes to an end on the completion of the particular venture. If such a firm is not dissolved and it begins to undertake new activities not originally contemplated, the rights and obligations of the partners continue to be the same as in the original partnership and it will continue till a partner gives a notice of his intention to dissolve the firm.

Limited Liability Partnership (LLP) Act, 2008

In India "The Limited Liability Partnership (LLP) Act, 2008" was published in the Official Gazette of India on January 9, 2009 and has been notified with effect from 31st March 2009. The first LLP was incorporated in the 2-4-2009.

At present, there are about 10,000 LLPs formed and registered under the Limited Liability Partnership Act.

Being the separate legislation (i.e.,LLP Act, 2008) the provisions of Indian Partnership Act, 1932 are not applicable to an LLP and it is regulated by the contractual agreement between the partners. Every Limited Liability Partnership shall use the words "Limited Liability Partnership" or its acronym "LLP" as the last words of its name.

iv. Limited Liability Partnership (LLP)

Limited Liability Partnership is very popular in the service sector and in the small scale business enterprises. Limited liability partnership means for paying the debts of the firm only the assets of the business will be utilized and not the personal properties. It is prevalent among popular professionals such as Cost Accountants, Company Secretaries, Chartered Accountants, Lawyers, Architects, Engineers and Doctors. Limited Liability Partnership is available in countries like U.S.A, Singapore, Thailand and U.K. It came into existence in India since 2008.

5.05 Types of Partners

i. Active Partner

A partner who takes an active part in the conduct of the partnership business is known as an active partner. Though every partner is entitled to manage its affairs, all may not do so.

ii. Sleeping Partner or Dormant Partner

Such a partner contributes capital and shares in the profits or losses of the firm but does not take part in the management of the business. He may not be known as a partner to the outsiders; yet he is liable to third parties to an unlimited extent as any other partner.

iii. Nominal Partner

Such a partner neither contributes any capital nor is he entitled to manage the affairs of the business. He only lends his name to the firm because on the strength of his name and reputation, the firm may attract additional business and raise funds easily. A nominal partner, however,
