Poem

Lines Written in the Early Spring

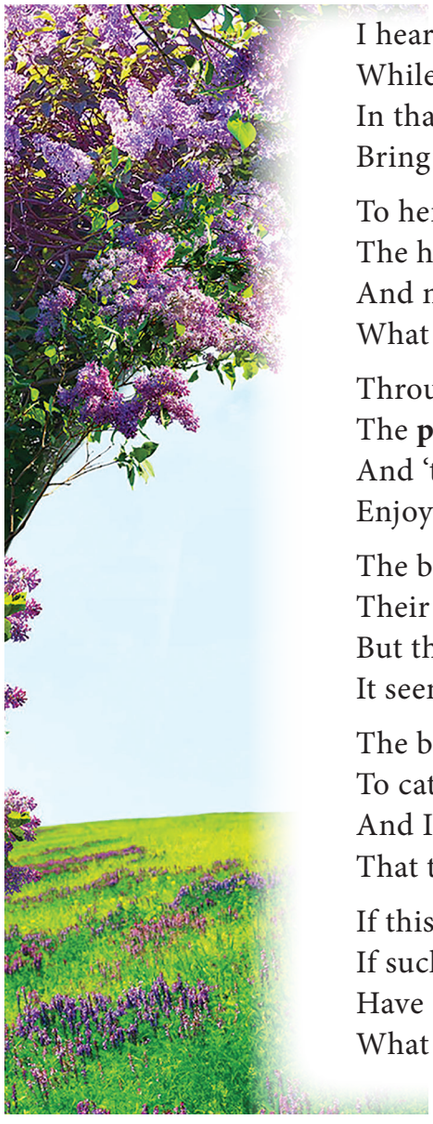

William Wordsworth

Warm Up:

- Do you go for leisurely walks? If you are a city-dweller, what or who would you expect to see on your way?
- If you go to a village, what scenes would you observe?

Now, read the poem 'Lines Written in Early Spring', which expresses the poet's feelings towards Nature and the lessons he has learnt from it.

I heard a thousand blended notes
While in a grove I sate reclined,
In that sweet mood when pleasant thoughts
Bring sad thoughts to the mind.

To her fair works did Nature link
The human soul that through me ran;
And much it grieved my heart to think
What Man has made of Man.

Through primrose tufts, in that green bower,
The periwinkle trail'd its wreaths;
And 'tis my faith that every flower
Enjoys the air it breathes.

The birds around me hopp'd and play'd
Their thoughts I cannot measure,
But the least motion which they made
It seem'd a thrill of pleasure.

The budding twigs spread out their fan
To catch the breezy air;
And I must think, do all I can,
That there was pleasure there.

If this belief from heaven be sent,
If such be Nature's holy plan,
Have I not reason to lament
What Man has made of Man?
