Glass beads

Gold ornaments (seven pieces), and copper objects in bits and pieces, beads of semi-precious stones and glass, bangles and combs made of ivory and shell, indicate the cultural richness and economic prosperity in the region. The beads, numbering over 4,000, include beads of glass, paste, quartz, faience, agate, carnelian and terracotta.

IRON OBJECTS

Iron nails and parts of knives have also been unearthed.

TERRACOTTA FIGURINES

Figurines made of terracotta representing human beings (13), animals (3) gamesmen (chessman) and toys (600) and ear ornaments (28) have been found.

Hopscotches

Artefacts such as dice, hopscotches and gamesmen, reflects the lifestyles and the pastime activities of the ancient people.

The flat portions of the potsherds are generally grounded and the edges smoothened to bring a round shape locally called 'sillu'. They were used as game pieces.
