13. 1 What do you mean by Social Justice?

The negative values which are made by the society results in inequality and cleavation among people. Social power is the dominant phenomenon which leads to cut-throat competition and ends in absolute control of the subjects. It is in order to protect the social identity, the dominant communities endeavor to capture the power sector. Among different communities in a plural society, dominance of a single group is considered as unfair and unjust. The dominant groups activate racial, religious, caste, lingual and cultural feelings and intend to misuse the social rights of other groups that may end in permanent hostility between different groups. The struggle that is undertaken by the weaker groups in order to react for establishing equal society is known to be Social Justice.

Background of Social Hierarchy

The ancient Indian civilization had evolved with the "Varnashrama Dharma" which kick-started the principle of hierarchy i.e. Upper and Lower strata. The Varna system is also called as "Four Varna System" by which people were divided as Brahmins, Kshatriyas, Vysyas and Shudras.

Those sections who have been beyond these Varna classification were categories as scheduled castes and scheduled tribes. During the colonial period these depressed communities were classified as panchamas who were victims of untouchability. This division on the basis of birth has been inculcated and socialized along different phases of civilization from which inequalities surfaced in the society.
